

ECIS 2002

INFORMATION SYSTEMS AND THE FUTURE OF THE DIGITAL ECONOMY

THE 10TH EUROPEAN CONFERENCE ON INFORMATION SYSTEMS
JUNE 6-8, 2002 GDAŃSK, POLAND

J. C. Schultz, "Long Market", 1843

The Conference will be held in Gdansk, an old merchant city with long tradition of international contacts and scientific research (Hevelius, Fahrenheit, Schopenhauer) and recently a cradle of "Solidarity". In 1997 Gdansk celebrated its Millennium. Two Nobel Prize winners (Walesa, Grass) had firmly placed Gdansk on the political and cultural map of modern Europe.

Department of Information Systems is the initiator of International Conference on Information System Development, which is being continued since 1988. ISD has been later hosted by numerous research centres worldwide.

There are many places and events worth visiting, like museums, theatres, parks, cathedrals, monuments, Oliva Organ Festival and Saint Dominic Fair. Gdansk preserved its unique atmosphere thanks to the charm of the historical city centre and many pleasant restaurants and cafes of different national cuisines. Gdansk has been always the meeting place of Eastern and Western European nations and cultures.

Conference Chair: Stanisław Wrycza

University of Gdańsk
Department of Information
Systems

Armii Krajowej 119/121
81-824 Sopot, Poland

Email: info@ecis2002.univ.gda.pl

Phone: +48 58 5509400

Fax: +48 58 5515931

Official WWW home page:

<http://ecis2002.univ.gda.pl/>